Faculty [1]

The University of Colorado System has over 8,500 faculty members, each making significant contributions to the teaching, research and outreach missions. These dedicated individuals are shaping tomorrow?s leaders and positioning the university as a catalyst for economic, social and cultural development.

Faculty Handbook [2]
The University of Colorado Faculty Handbook has been prepared for the convenience and information of the faculty members of the University of Colorado four-campus system. This handbook brings together those university laws, policies, procedures and other information items that apply, or might be of interest, to faculty members

CU Retired Faculty Association [4]
CURFA is an organization of retired faculty members of the four University of Colorado campuses.

Privilege & Tenure Committee [6]
The P&T Committee, through its panel structure, conducts investigations and mediations of, and hearings on, grievances concerning faculty rights, privileges, and tenure, including reappointments with or without tenure, promotions, post-tenure review and suspensions, that are submitted by members of the Faculty Senate.

Faculty Council [3]
The Faculty Council is the executive body of the Faculty Senate, and as such, initiates advice and recommendations to the president or other appropriate administrative officials for submission to the Board of Regents on matters within jurisdiction of the Council which are related to educational policy, internal operations, and external operation of the university.

President's Teaching Scholars [5]
The President's Teaching Scholars Program, established in 1989 as a presidential initiative, honors faculty who have excelled in effective and exemplary teaching, creative work, scholarship and research.

Faculty Housing Assistance Program [7]
Participating in the FHAP can make housing more affordable by providing a source of financial assistance for a down payment needed to qualify for a loan and potentially avoiding the cost of private mortgage insurance.
