

Revive and Re-purpose: How to Use Old Content for Better Results <sup>[1]</sup>

July 12, 2017 by Kate O'Connell <sup>[2]</sup>

For the inaugural Tools of the Trade post, we'll take a closer look at utilizing content, specifically recycling content. There are a myriad of reasons why recycling content may be a good option for you and your team in your marketing initiatives. A few of these reasons, along with ideas for how to recycle content, are presented in a blog post <sup>[3]</sup> from Duct Tape Marketing <sup>[4]</sup>.

Topics covered in this post include:

- Advantages of re-purposing content
- Definition evergreen content
- Examples of content that can be recycled

You can read the full post here <sup>[3]</sup>.

Licensed eComm Users <sup>[5]</sup>

Display Title:

Revive and Re-purpose: How to Use Old Content for Better Results

Send email when Published:

Yes

---

Source URL:<https://www.cu.edu/blog/set/revive-and-re-purpose-how-use-old-content-better-results>

Links

[1] <https://www.cu.edu/blog/set/revive-and-re-purpose-how-use-old-content-better-results>

[2] <https://www.cu.edu/blog/set/author/292> [3] <https://www.ducttapemarketing.com/use-old-content-better-results/> [4] <https://www.ducttapemarketing.com/> [5] <https://www.cu.edu/blog/set/tag/licensed-ecommerce-users>