

Micro-aggressions and Micro-affirmations: Awareness in the Workplace ^[1]

The purpose of the Micro-aggressions and Micro-affirmations: Awareness in the Workplace course is to provide participants with a basic understanding of the impacts of micro-aggressions in the work environment, and to identify ways to address these impacts with kindness and respect.

Micro-aggressions are everyday verbal/nonverbal slights or insults, intentional or unintentional. They communicate negative messages to the target persons and undermine dignity and the capacity for empathy. We can address micro-aggressions and their impacts in the workplace by committing to micro-affirmations -- small acts to communicate that all are welcome, visible, and capable.
