CU provides on-call compensation for non-exempt employees in eligible job codes. These positions are for employees specifically assigned to be accessible outside of working hours and restricted in movement.

Non-exempt employees in eligible job codes will receive the following:

- The time employees are on-call will be paid $5 per hour.
- When an employee is called in, they receive their regular rate of pay or overtime pay, whichever applies, for hours worked or 2 hours pay, whichever is more.
- Once an employee is called into work, such time will be considered work time and will be counted towards the 2 hours.

Review Employee Services' procedural statement ^[3] for pay rates while on-call, how to track time within My Leave and earnings codes within HCM.

Classified staff who provide translation services are provided additional, non-base building pay under the COWINS Partnership Agreement ^[4].

Translation Pay rates are:

- $50 per month if translation is less than 25% of work time.
- $100 per month if translation is between 25% and 50% of work time.
- $150 per month if translation is greater than 50% of work time.

Review Employee Services' procedural statement ^[5] for additional guidance when to provide translational pay and recording policies.
