Supervisors

As the supervisor of an injured employee, you have responsibilities that include but are not limited to:

- Verify that the employee's work related injury is reported to URM in a timely manner.
- Provide the employee with the Designated Medical Provider (DMP) list for your campus so the employee may choose a DMP.
- After every DMP exam, confirm the employee is giving you their Physicians Report of Workers' Compensation Injury?
 - If there are any restrictions given, determine if your department can accommodate.
 - Immediately communicate with URM if the injured employee is unable to return to work within restrictions or is taken off work by a DMP.
- Track and report ANY lost time the employee has because of his or her workers' compensation claim to URM (Payroll Liaisons may also be responsible for this task).
- Ensure that workers' compensation posters are up and visible to your employees in community areas.
 - Boulder ^[3]
 - Denver | Anschutz Medical Campus ^[4]
 - Colorado Springs ^[5]

The assigned adjuster may or may not contact you directly with additional questions they have regarding the workers' compensation claim. Please contact URM to discuss any questions.

Payroll Liaisons

Payroll liaisons may share some of the same responsibilities of the supervisor depending on your campus and your specific department. Either you or the supervisor must report ANY lost time for a work related injury directly to URM. Contact Human Resources for any family medical leave questions or Employee Services for any time coding questions.

Lost Time Worksheet Submission Process

- The supervisor and the payroll liaison are responsible for reporting lost time to URM per the instructions listed below:
- Lost time worksheets must be completed in full (All dates and hours for workers? compensation time and non-workers? compensation time).
- Worksheets must be submitted every two weeks until the employee reaches maximum medical improvement or the handling adjuster advises otherwise.
- When an employee is not OJI eligible or has reached make whole, lost time worksheets must be submitted weekly. What is OJI eligible? ^[17]
- To submit lost time, please click on the link below. You may also print the form below and fax lost time to URM at 303-860-5680.

Lost Time Worksheet ^[18]

Lost time is defined as authorized time lost from scheduled work for:

- authorized medical appointments
- time off authorized by the Designated Medical Provider (DMP)
- the department is unable to accommodate restrictions that are placed on the injured employee by the DMP

It is the employee's responsibility to tell the supervisor if he or she is losing time by giving their supervisor the "Physicians Report of Workers' Compensation Injury" to document lost time and any restrictions.

Medical appointments, diagnostics and therapy appointments should be scheduled around the employee's working shift to minimize lost time from work.

Lost Time Worksheet Submission Process

The supervisor and the payroll liaison are responsible for reporting lost time to URM per the instructions listed below:

- Lost time worksheets must be completed in full (all dates and hours for workers? compensation time and non-workers? compensation time).
- Worksheets must be submitted every two weeks until the employee reaches maximum medical improvement or the handling adjuster advises otherwise.
- When an employee is not OJI eligible or has reached make whole, lost time worksheets must be submitted weekly. What is OJI eligible? ^[17]
- To submit lost time, please click on the link below. You may also print the form below and fax lost time to URM at 303-860-5680.

Waiting Period

Under Colorado Workers' Compensation law, an employee must lose either 24 hours of scheduled work OR three scheduled shifts of authorized time before workers' compensation lost time benefits begin.

This is defined as the "waiting period." URM must have lost time worksheets submitted in order to track this information.

Time Coding

The waiting period is coded as sick/vacation leave. If an employee accumulates more than 14 occurrences of authorized lost time including the waiting period, then the sick/vacation time must be changed to OJI.

On the Job Injury (OJI) Eligible and Non-Eligible Employees

Eligible

- full time permanent employees of the university
- EXCEPTION at CU Boulder Campus ONLY: employees hired at 1 percent or 10 percent time into a permanent position in the classified system

If an employee is On the Job Injury eligible (OJI) and the waiting period has been met, the employee will receive 100 percent of their pay from their department for 90 occurrences. An occurrence is counted based on time lost from work. If an employee loses one hour for a medical appointment on a working day, the day is counted as a full occurrence. If 90 occurrences are reached, your handling adjuster will be in contact with you regarding the make whole process.

State of Colorado OJI Policy [17]

Non-Eligible

- part-time employees (This may include 9 month faculty)
- student workers
- student interns
- retirees

If an employee is NOT eligible and the waiting period has been met, URM will pay the employee directly based on the number of hours lost at 66 2/3 percent of their normal salary on a bi-weekly basis as defined under Colorado Workers' Compensation law.

I'm not sure if I'm an employee, should I still file a claim?

If you're not sure if you are an employee of the University of Colorado, please still file a claim and contact University Risk Management directly at 303-860-5682 or toll-free at 888-812-9601. URM is here as a resource to our employees and will contact you directly if there are any employment questions.

I was injured at work but I'm not sure if it would be covered under workers' compensation. Should I still file a claim?

If you believe your injury is work related, please file a claim with URM. An adjuster will be assigned to complete an investigation and determine if this is a covered workers' compensation claim.

I had a work related injury but don't want to see a doctor. Do I still need to go to a designated medical provider (DMP)?

The university cannot force anyone to seek medical treatment. URM strongly encourages injured workers to seek medical care with a DMP, at least for an initial evaluation.

It is also important to remember that no lost time or medical restrictions will be authorized under workers' compensation unless authorized by a DMP.

I received a bill associated with my workers' compensation claim, what should I do with it?

If you receive any bills directly from a provider, DO NOT DISREGARD THEM, forward to URM directly by email, mail or fax.

I'm a supervisor. My injured employee is losing time from work. What do I do?

Authorized lost time due to medical appointments, physical therapy, diagnostic testing, or the department's inability to accommodate a worker's restrictions must be submitted to URM on the lost time worksheet [20]. Please refer to the lost time tab for an overview or contact URM.

I want to know more about the Colorado Workers' Compensation Act. What are my rights and responsibilities as an injured worker?

You can always contact URM with any questions that you have regarding your worker's compensation claim. The Colorado Division of Workers' Compensation has a number of resources, including an employee handbook. You may review the Colorado Division of Workers' Compensation website [21] for more information.

I'm losing time for my job but I haven't met the waiting period. Who pays for my initial lost time?

Until an employee has met the initial waiting period, any authorized lost time will be charged to the employee's sick, vacation, or comp time. Please refer to the lost time tab for more information, or contact URM.

I received an Admission of Liability in the mail. What does it mean?

If you receive any admissions from our office, please contact your adjuster directly to discuss any questions you may have. You may also review the Colorado Division of Workers' Compensation website [21] for more information.

I received the Authorization for Medical Release and Medical Treatment Information form in the mail. What is this for?

The Medical Treatment Information form should contain information for any physicians that you have seen previously for any prior conditions that are similar or related.

The Authorization for Medical Release needs to be signed and returned to University Risk Management:

The doctor gave me a prescription. How do I get it filled?

At your first visit with the DMP, you should be given information for MyMatrixx. Please give this information to the pharmacy of your choice, and your prescription will be covered with no charge to you.

Within 10 days of filing your claim, you will receive correspondence from myMatrixx explaining how to use them for all of your prescriptions related to your claim. If you have not received your MyMatrixx information, please contact URM.
