COVID–19 Student Relief

• In March 2020 - CARES Act suspended student loan payments and interest for both current borrowers and outstanding federal loan balances through September 30, 2020 as part of COVID-19 relief.

• In August 2020 –the Secretary of Education extended the relief through December 31, 2020.

• Borrowers with income driven repayment plans, including the Public Service Loan Forgiveness, are able to apply the suspended months towards on-time payments under both actions as long as work requirements are met.

• $5 million from CU Foundation in FY 2020-21 (Fall 2020) resulted in 5,223 financial aid awards system wide with more than 9,000 applicants.

Facts About National Student Loan Debt, $1.67 Trillion

• Includes all outstanding balances for federal and private student loans processed through financial aid, plus accrued interest.

• Forty percent of outstanding student loan debt is from graduate students.

• Only eight percent of outstanding debt comes from private loans.

• Non-completers are more likely to default on student loans than completers.

• Default rates are much lower for those who earn credentials.

• In spite of all of the concerns about student debt levels, the fact remains, a college education pays off and is an investment worth making.

Closing the Cost Gap

Ways to Reduce Cost

- Apply for scholarships
- Boost credit load (more than 12 per term or summer school)
- Transfer credit (high school concurrent, competency testing, other college)
- Live with family or with multiple roommates
- Cut back on personal expenses (use alternative transport)
- Remain on parents’ health insurance plan
- Meet with advisors to track degree progress
Closing the Cost Gap

- Part-time work
- College savings plans
- Parent or private loans
- Credit cards
Conclusions

• Out-of-pocket tuition and fee increases were mitigated for many low and middle income students.

• Of all resident, undergraduate students system-wide:
  o 39% took federal student loans in FY 2020.
  o 7% had parent loans in FY 2020.

• On average, CU students have a loan default rate of 3.6%, which is approximately six percentage points lower than the national and statewide average.
