Entering After-the-Fact Purchases into CU Marketplace

In This Guide

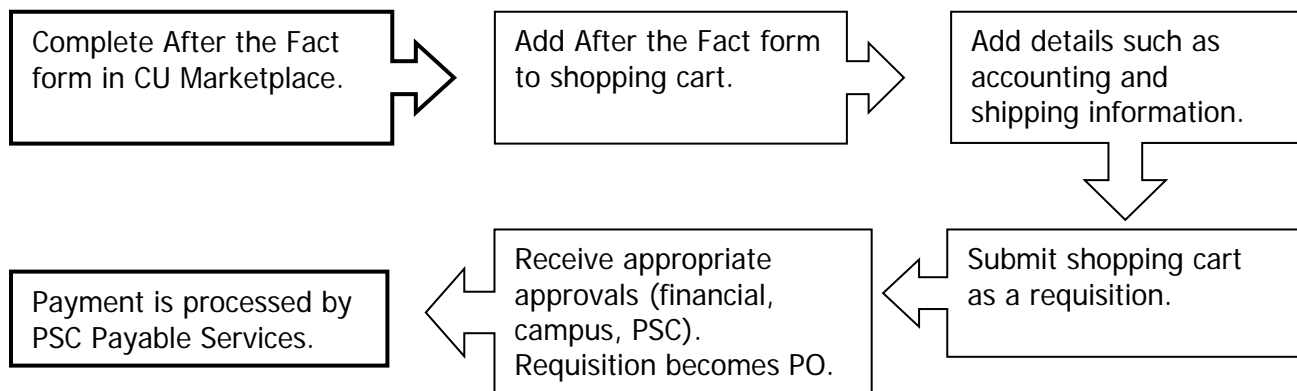

This guide discusses the After-the-Fact (ATF) purchase process. Topics covered are:

- ✓ ATF definition

- ✓ Procedure to enter ATFs

What is an ATF purchase?

According to the PSC Procedural Statement After-the-Fact Purchases, an ATF purchase occurs when a department makes a purchase for more than $5,000 before issuance of a Purchase Order (PO). For example, authorizing a supplier to begin work before a PO is issued – even though the department has submitted a requisition – is an ATF. Similarly, obtaining goods or services on credit and subsequently submitting the invoice with a Payment Voucher/Authorization is an ATF unless it is a purchase specifically allowed to be paid by Payment Voucher/Authorization as set forth in the PSC Procedural Statement Payment Voucher/Authorization.

13. Click the Final Review tab to complete your review. If needed, click the edit button to make additional updates.

(You must have Requestor access in order to perform this step.)

1. Click the Submit Order button located in the upper right corner.
2. A congratulatory message will appear, along with a summary of your requisition. CU Marketplace will send an email notification to the Approver(s).

Step #5: Receive appropriate approvals

After the Requestor submits your shopping cart as a requisition, CU Marketplace routes your requisition for financial approval. Financial approval is given by an individual with a fiscal role on the SpeedType (except Officer or Fiscal Staff – Report Recipient) who is also a CU Marketplace Approver.

After financial approval is obtained, CU Marketplace routes your requisition to the appropriate campus approver, and then to the PSC, for approval. Once approved by the PSC, your requisition will convert into a PO. (Your PO is not communicated to the supplier.) The Requestor will receive an email notification from CU Marketplace.

Step #6: Payment processed

Once your requisition is converted into a PO, the invoice is sent to PSC Payable Services for payment processing. An email notification is sent to the Requestor once the invoice is entered as a voucher into CU Marketplace. You can then review the voucher online.
