Congresswoman DeGette Presents at the Robert Reynolds Distinguished Lecture and International Executive Roundtable [1]

September 23, 2016 by Natalie Barry [2]

Congresswoman Diana DeGette gave the keynote speech for the Robert Reynolds Distinguished Lecture and International Executive Roundtable at CU Denver's Center for International Business Education and Research (CIBER). Her talk focused on U.S./Japanese relations amid recent changes in the Japanese economy and politics.

Congresswoman DeGette was born in Japan and serves as Co-Chair of the Congressional Study Group on Japan. CU Denver's CIBER is one of seventeen U.S. Department of Education designated centers designed to promote U.S. global competitiveness for students, faculty, and American businesses, and to provide international business expertise.
