

Employee Services to get a digital facelift ^[1]

November 1, 2013 by \(not verified\) ^[2]

Coming soon: A slick, revamped Employee Services website that helps CU faculty, staff, students and retirees quickly and easily get the information they need. This multi-phased project will improve how CU employees access, understand and use payroll, benefits, human resources as well as personal and professional development tools online. Top new-site features:

1. Responsive design—Web pages will adapt to the device you're using to view them—whether that's your desktop computer or your smartphone.
2. Refreshed content—The Employee Services team has removed extraneous pages and created a more intuitive site structure/
3. Navigate by your employee type—A new "I am a" dropdown feature will allow you to access information about job, pay and benefits that's relevant to your role at the university.

Look for more information as launch day approaches.
