July 6, 2017 by Employee Services ^[2]

The software that powers CU Careers (known as Taleo) is set to upgrade on July 14. These enhancements will not affect the look or feel of the system, but will allow for a better overall user experience.

What's changing?

- More profile upload options: Candidates can apply for positions faster than before.
- Enhanced candidate tracking and compliance: Recruiters can review job submissions and sort them by Submission Completed date in chronological order. This includes those in draft status and abandoned applications.
- Increased reporting functionality: Users can schedule reports and receive email notifications that provide status of when reports have been completed.
- Fixes to the system.
