The first step towards any career is to form a career plan, a personalized step-by-step guide for pursuing the career you want. You will learn all the facets of a career plan from Aimee Bateman and Careercake in “How to Develop Your Career Plan.” [3]

Developing your career plan will give you a roadmap toward the jobs, internships, and even mentors who are best aligned to help you achieve your unique career goals. You will also learn how to create a personal development plan, so you can achieve personal goals that help you grow to meet your life and career goals.

By understanding where you are, now, and deciding where you want to go, you can create a career plan to simplify your decision-making, reduce stress when applying for jobs or internships and connect with mentors who have been there before to help you along the way.
