

Report Name Cutouts on CU-Data Homepage [1]

February 28, 2020 by Sarju Khadka [2]

Are you finding the name of the reports on the tile view annoying? You are not alone!

It is frustrating, especially if the two report names have similar wording and you are presented with a cutout name. You could hover over the tiles to see the full name of the report you desire to render, or better yet, click on the list view instead of the tile view. You can change the view by simply clicking on the button on the left corner of the home page right above the reports (screenshot below). The list view displays the full name of the reports, unlike the tile view. You can toggle back and forth between the two views if you desire.
