Cognos Reporting System Update: CU-Data Rescheduled to Early May [1]

April 27, 2017 by normandy.roden [2]

Earlier this month, we announced a pending upgrade [3] (and a pending name change, to CU-Data [4]) for the Cognos Reporting System.

We've rescheduled the launch of CU-Data from the end of April to early May. We'll announce the exact date through our blog and on the portal.

The current Cognos Reporting System will remain available through fiscal year-end

We encourage you to start running your m-Fin reports in CU-Data as soon as the system goes live. However, for your convenience, the current Cognos Reporting System will also be available through the end of this fiscal year.

Get ready for CU-Data

We've created a website [4]to provide you with information and instructions on CU-Data.

Here, you can find out what's changing (and what's not), see what the system looks like through some short videos, and then see it for yourself by logging in to a test environment!

Tell us what you think

Use the feedback form on the CU-Data learning website [4].
