CPE Classes in early February for CU Marketplace and CU-Data (m-Fin) Users [1]

January 22, 2021 by normandy.roden [2]

Find the information you need using two key systems: CU Marketplace e-procurement, and CU-Data financial reporting.

The Office of University Controller has scheduled its first Continuing Professional Education (CPE) webinars of the new calendar year to address the following topics:

- In the CU Marketplace: Searching for Documents [3] webinar, find out how to efficiently look up requisitions, purchase orders, and invoices in the University's e-procurement system. You'll also learn how to export search results and save your custom searches.
- In the Mastering m-Fin: Running & Scheduling Reports [4] webinar, see different options for running, saving, and scheduling m-Fin reports in the CU-Data financial reporting system. See how to re-prompt your reports for new values and formats.

Course information and sign-up links are available now on our CPE Schedule and Registration page. [5]
