Congratulations to Travis Chillemi, the OUC's Strategic Communication Technology Manager! Travis recently earned a CU Shared Practices (CUSP) award for his radical redesign of the University's Annual Financial Report.

The award was presented at the CUSP 2014 Expo event in June. Award committee members and Expo visitors alike noted the enhanced accountability and transparency resulting from the more effective presentation of financial information. The new HTML format allows improved searchability, mobile and tablet-friendly design, and the addition of color graphs. It also saves substantial annual printing costs.

You can learn all about these innovations on the CUSP website. But we really recommend that you check out the online report itself.

Good work, Travis!
