FishNet Users: Your Turn is Coming! [1]

March 9, 2012 by (not verified) [2]

If you are one of the hundreds of FishNet users who love the Position Budget and other reports, there are 3 things you need to know:

1. In April, we will be reaching out directly to FishNet users, emailing them to ascertain their opinions on reports and enhancements. We will also be asking about the type of training, documentation, and other help they would like us to provide in order to facilitate the transition from FishNet to Cognos m-Fin.
2. Also in April, Cognos m-Fin replacements for old Fish-Net reports will begin to be available.
3. In September, the FishNet reporting tool will be decommissioned.

And by the way, our Reporting Systems head, Carl Sorenson, was also the lead developer of the FishNet reporting tool. So you know you're in good hands now during this transition.
