February 5, 2019 by normandy.roden [2]

This Valentine’s Day, give yourself – and your career – a little love by committing to Continuing Professional Education (CPE) at 1800 Grant Street in Denver.

We’ve opened registration for three courses on Thursday, February 14:

- Basic Excel [3] (new course!), 9:00am-10:50am – Get practical advice and shortcuts to make the most of this important tool. (Bring a laptop so you can follow along in the exercises.)
- Personal Tax Update [4], 11:00am-11:50am – Pick up some tips on tax code changes that affect your personal finances.
- Delivering Helpful Feedback: The Rules from the Psychology Lab [5], 1:00pm-2:50pm – Use these insights to enhance your effectiveness on the job.

You can get course information and sign up at www.cu.edu/controller/schedule-and-registration [6].

We look forward to seeing you soon.
