New CPE Courses Provide Work/Life Knowledge [1]

November 21, 2018 by normandy.roden [2]

Find out how budgets work -- in your personal life and at CU -- and learn about the red flags of identity theft. Check out our Continuing Professional Education (CPE) courses [3] in December!

We've opened registration for three CPE sessions on Wednesday, December 5, at 1800 Grant Street in Denver:

- Money Matters [4] - 9:00-9:50 a.m. Find out how to complete a zero-based budget for your household.
- Budget Basics [5] - 10:00-11:50 a.m. Get an overview of CU's budget process, learn how to read budget information on m-Fin reports, and more.
- Red Flags Rule [6] - 1:00-2:50 p.m. Pick up some basic tools to help detect identity theft (against borrowers, students, and other customers) and prevent losses to the University.

Registration is available at www.cu.edu/controller/schedule-and-registration [3]. Parking is available on the street and in the pay-to-park lot opposite the building.

We look forward to seeing you soon!
