

Concur Expense Type Updates ^[1]

May 10, 2022 by Staff ^[2]

With feedback received from the campus communities, the PSC has completed a full review and clean-up of the expense types in Concur, our travel and expense management system. In this clean-up we:

- Addressed issues with expense types in Concur mapping incorrectly to account codes in the General Ledger
- Added some of the most commonly requested expense types (mapping to account codes of the same name/description)
- Clarified descriptions on some of the existing expense types in the system

Many of these changes are subtle and will go almost undetected by the casual user. For those high-volume delegates and other individuals processing a large number of expense reports, the changes should make for a more intuitive experience in the system.

If you want to get a comprehensive view of the updates, please refer to the table below:
