Dell Marketplace Update [1]

April 13, 2023 by Staff [2]

As part of the normal process of bringing new products and solutions to their customers, Dell is in the process of updating some of the standard configurations listed with the CU Marketplace Punchout Catalog. Below is a crosswalk to help understand which models are being replaced with new model and model designations. Additionally, we are including a list of newly released Dell peripherals which will likely be interested to many of us at CU.

If you are looking to customize or order a specific device not listed within CU Marketplace, please reach out directly to our Account Manager, Ashley Delgado [3] and she will be happy to prepare a quote for you which will guarantee our standard specifications and pricing for the device you need.
