

Flash Player no longer supported ^[1]

January 14, 2021 by UIS Communications ^[2]

Adobe no longer supports Flash Player as of Dec. 31, 2020 and will begin blocking Flash content on Jan. 12, 2021.

It is highly recommended that users uninstall Flash Player. Some users may already be getting reminders on their devices about this change. Here is how you can uninstall Flash Player:

Windows:

1. Download the Uninstaller ^[3] for Flash Player and save it on your desktop.
2. Exit all browsers that use Flash and make sure no programs are running in your taskbar.
3. Run the uninstaller and follow the prompts.
4. Lastly, restart your device to ensure that the uninstallation is complete.

Mac:

1. Download the uninstaller and note your Mac OS Version.
 1. Mac OS X, Version 10.6 and later ^[4]
 2. Mac OS X, Version 10.4 and 10.5 ^[5]
2. Open the Uninstaller by clicking on the Downloads icon.
 1. You can also find it in Finder under Devices.
3. Click Uninstall take note of the rest of the instructions.
4. Exit all browsers and let the uninstallation continue until it notifies you that it is complete.
5. Restart your device to ensure that the uninstallation is complete.
