The Tech Tips blog serves as a reference point for CU employees when dealing with common tech problems, learning how to use a device or application to its fullest potential, or just looking to expand your technological knowledge.

Our biweekly tips — ranging in topic from Microsoft Teams and Zoom to staying cyber secure and using AI properly — are a great source of best practices and practical, everyday advice.

The Tech Tips blog is written by CU employees for CU employees. The blog is most useful when the tips are geared toward common issues or workarounds that employees often use.

So, what topics are you interested in learning more about? Do you have a specific tech question that puzzles you? Have you found a way to leverage platforms while in your role at CU? Which keyboard shortcuts are indispensable to your workflow?

We want to hear from you! Submit your suggestions, questions or solutions by sending us an email at UISCommunications@cu.edu ^[3], or by clicking the button below.
