

Organize your tabs in Chrome browser ^[1]

March 25, 2021 by UIS Communications ^[2]

Ever have so many tabs open in your browser that you can't keep them organized? Chrome has introduced a new way to organize your tabs using tab groups. Group your tabs by following these steps:

- Right-click on the tab of choice in Chrome and select add tab to a new group.
- From there, you can create, name and color-code groups.
- This same selection allows you to create a new tab in a group, ungroup, close group, move the group to a new window and add feedback.
