

Ensure you're paid correctly by setting your preferences in My Leave ^[1]

June 30, 2017 by Employee Services ^[2]

Whether you are a longtime CU employee or new to entering your work hours in My Leave, please take a moment to review your preferences, as they are key to being paid correctly.

Settings to check

When setting My Leave preferences, you must confirm your correct campus holiday schedule (temporary and student employees must select "no holiday schedule"), your regular work days and hours and whether you are eligible for overtime or comp time. In addition, you must click on the Select Email Notifications button to ensure it saves correctly so you can get into your calendar.

A selection must be made in this drop-down menu to successfully set your preferences. If the information listed in the preferences is incorrect, hours and pay may not be calculated accurately.
