If you received a postcard from your retired self, what would it say? If the postcard's message seems less than ideal, it may be time to reassess your retirement plan, this time considering the obstacles you face as a woman in the workforce.

Shape your happily-ever-after in retirement at the upcoming TIAA workshop “Postcards from the Future: A woman’s guide to financially ever-after.” With longer lifespans and fewer years in the workforce, retirement savings look different for women. At this hands-on workshop, you will gain the tools and strategies to overcome these challenges and have a successful retirement.

Register for and attend a seminar below:
