Meet the OUC: Learn More about What We Do for You [1]

March 17, 2022

The mission of the Office of University Controller (OUC) is to provide leadership to the University of Colorado in financial recording, reporting, policy guidance, and communication. The Associate Vice President & University Controller -- by delegation from the CU President -- has authority over and responsibility for the fiscal practices of the University.

What does that mean to you?

You can learn more about what we do, and how you intersect with the OUC's teams as you fulfill your fiscal responsibilities, through our new short intro video, Meet the OUC [2].

As you learn more about us, let us learn more about you. Share what and how you're doing ... and any suggestions for how we can help. Use the Questions/Feedback webform, in the sidebar at the top right of the What We Do for You page. We look forward to hearing from you!
