

CPE: New Class Resources Available ^[1]

November 26, 2025

Good news: We've modified our CPE Program website to provide more resources that you frequently request.

We often receive emails from departments asking us to send copies of CPE course handout materials or links to course webinar recordings (if available). Now, you'll be able to find those resources directly on our website.

Let's consider, for example, our Career Development course, presented earlier this fall:

- When you check out the CPE Schedule & Registration webpage ^[2], you now see a "Recent Courses & Resources" sidebar on the top right side of the page. This sidebar will be updated as additional courses are taught.
- Click the link to the specific course name, and you'll transfer to that course's description page (e.g., Career Development ^[3]). There, you see the new sidebar "Course Recording & Resources."
- Now you can access the recording (if available) and any handouts from the most recent offering of the course.
- Remember that you cannot receive CPE credit for watching a recorded webinar.
