

Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA): Safeguards Rule ^[1]

July 2021

The GLBA Safeguards Rule requires CU to implement safeguards to ensure the security and confidentiality of certain nonpublic personal information that is obtained when CU offers or delivers a financial product or service to an individual for personal, family, or household purposes.

To support compliance with the Rule, CU has implemented administrative, technical, and physical safeguards as part of its comprehensive Data Governance and IT Security programs.

Find out if your organizational unit needs to comply with the Rule. Review the Office of University Controller website at www.cu.edu/glba ^[2].

Source URL:<https://www.cu.edu/controller/office-university-controller-newsletter/july-2021-edition/gramm-leach-bliley-act-glba>

Links

[1] <https://www.cu.edu/controller/office-university-controller-newsletter/july-2021-edition/gramm-leach-bliley-act-glba> [2] <https://www.cu.edu/glba>