Once you onboard, leverage different channels to continue your eComm education.

STEP 3 | Login, Training & Quiz

After you complete either training option, spend a few minutes taking a short verification quiz to become an official eComm user.

STEP 4 | Continued Education

Communications | We'll keep you in the loop with:

- eComm News | monthly
  - ?see example from April 2020 [3]
- eComm specialist messages | as needed
- Updates, Releases & Outages | as needed
- Audits [4] | quarterly as needed
  - You will be notified when your pre-access requirements [5] have expired or if you login history indicates low-use of the applications. These audits are to ensure eComm's security and fiscal responsibility, as agreed upon in the user agreement signed by users and their supervisors.
Resources | Looking for more information? Start here:

- eComm Wiki [6] | Search specific tutorials or browse best practices along with tips & tricks on specific applications.
- eComm Specialist [7] | Partner with your eComm specialist to execute your email and event efforts. They are vital in making sure you have what you need in your account to achieve your goals.
- Upcoming Events & Webinars [8] | Attend virtual events hosted by eComm, CU, our external partners and vendors or other industry leaders to advance your skills.
- Campus Resources | Checkout specifics to your campus, including processes and timelines along with other offerings (such as access technologies or personnel).
