What is an FSA?

FSAs are tax-savings accounts set up by you to pay for certain qualifying expenses on a pre-tax basis, meaning before they are made subject to payroll taxes. You don't pay taxes on this money, meaning you'll save an amount equal to the taxes you would have paid. Accounts are subject to a "use-it-or-lose-it" rule each year. The IRS regulations in regards to the money you elect to contribute to flexible spending accounts that must be spent and claimed within the designated period of time or the monies will be forfeited.
What is an HSA?

An HSA (Health Savings Account) is a tax-savings account that must be paired with a High-Deductible Health Plan, which can be used to pay for qualified health care expenses now or in the future. An HSA is a savings account that you own. The funds in an HSA carry forward year after year, even if you change employers or retire. The money you put into an HSA (Health Savings Account) can be used for qualified medical expenses, like a doctor’s visit or prescription drugs. The expenses incurred for medical, dental or vision care for yourself and your tax dependents, as defined in Code Section 213(d) under Code Section 105, qualify as qualifying health care expenses. The funds in an HSA carry forward year after year, even if you change employers or retire.
