HSA Open Enrollment 2026

HSA Open Enrollment 2026 is now closed. Any changes made during HSA Open Enrollment will be effective starting Jan. 1, 2027.

What is changing with CU's Health Savings Account?

2027 contribution limits are increasing:

- Individual contribution limit is increasing by $100 to $4,500.
- Family contribution limit is increasing by $250 to $9,000.
- For those age 55 and over, you can contribute an additional $1,000 catch-up contribution.

Why choose a Health Savings Account?

- The money is yours [12]. HSA funds never expire. Unused HSA funds roll over from year to year. You can continue contributing without having to meet an annual “use it or lose it” spending requirement, and the money remains in your account even if you stop contributing.
- This allows enrollees to save money over time for future medical expenses [13] — whether anticipated or unexpected. Many account holders use an HSA to save money for medical expenses in retirement.
- Enrollees can invest their savings [14] to increase their HSA balance, including a range of options such as high-yield savings accounts and other investment products.

Who is eligible to enroll?

- Only participants in CU Health Plan – High Deductible may contribute to CU’s HSA.
- Participants may not be enrolled in both a Health Savings Account and a Health Care Flexible Spending Account (HCFSA).

When do 2026 Health Savings Account Open Enrollment changes take effect?

New enrollments and changes take effect Jan. 1, 2027.

Can employees still enroll/update contributions throughout the year?

- Yes. You can enroll or update your contributions at any time by contacting a benefit professional at 303-860-4200, opt 3, or by emailing benefits@cu.edu [15]. Changes made by the 10th of a given month will be effective that same month.
- You can also make a lump-sum contribution by submitting an HSA Authorization Form [16] to Employee Services.
