Beginning Fall 2017, University of Colorado employees will have an additional tuition waiver option available through the Intercampus Dependent Tuition Waiver Benefit Pilot Program. The pilot runs for three years.

This program applies to dependents (children and spouses) taking undergraduate classes only. Employees must waive the use of their employee tuition benefit for the academic year to allow their dependent to use it.

Highlights of each tuition assistance program are listed below. Note: If you choose option A, please visit our Employee Tuition Waiver Benefit page [5] to learn more.

Employees who work at the system administration office are eligible for up to 9 credits at UCCS, CU Denver and CU Anschutz, or a 30% tuition discount for CU Boulder for their dependents. The dependent can register during the standard registration period. The dependent can register for undergraduate or graduate classes (some exclusions may apply).

So you're ready to start using this benefit. Now what?

To start the process of using the benefit, follow these steps:

1. Check your benefits eligibility [6].
2. If you are in a benefit's eligible job code, check your dependent's eligibility [7].
3. For instructions on applying, select the campus your dependent wants to attend below.
   - CU Boulder [2]
   - CU Denver or CU Anschutz Medical Campus [3]
   - UCCS [4]
4. Fill out the Tuition Waiver Benefit Form [8] and submit it to Employee Services.
