

2014 GLBTI Symposium ^[1]

Registration for the 3rd Annual GLBTI symposium is now closed.

Thank you for your interest. We hope you can join us next year.

?

GLBTI

HE

[2]

Please join the CU Faculty Council GLBTI Committee for its 3rd annual symposium [2] to provide a forum for faculty, staff and students at CU to exchange ideas and learn new strategies for being inclusive throughout the University. The symposium will be held in the Trivisible Room of the Anschutz Medical Campus [3] on November 7, 2014, 1:00 - 5:00 pm.

Keynote Speaker:

Angela

Sauia, MD, PHD,
Associate Professor

Dr. Angela Sauaia is an Associate Professor of Public Health, Medicine, and Surgery at the University of Colorado Denver. She has an MD degree from the University of S. Paulo, Brazil, and a PhD in Analytic Health Services from the University of Colorado Denver. Dr. Sauaia has more than 20 years of experience in health services and health outcomes research, and is internationally known for her research in post-injury care. She is a co-investigator in the NIH-funded, 20-year Trauma Center Grant, which has changed several aspects of current post-trauma care, especially in the areas of blood transfusions, multiple organ failure and early coagulopathy.

Dr. Sauaia is also a co-investigator in the COMBAT (Control Of Major Bleeding in Acute Trauma) study, funded by the Department of Defense and the NIH-supported Colorado TACTIC (Trans-Agency Research Consortium for Trauma-Induced Coagulopathy). Dr. Sauaia is a nationally-recognized expert in the area of health equity. She led the federally-funded Tepeyac Project, which successfully diminished disparities in cancer screening among Latinas in Colorado using a church-based navigator program, and the state funded project TEACH (Teaching Equity to Advance Community Health) - a capacity-building, training program for community-based organizations engaged in reducing health inequities. Her new book "The Quest for Health Equity" bears witness to the health inequities that plague our great nation, and brings hope that change is indeed possible and within reach.

As a Latina immigrant herself, bicultural and multilingual, Dr. Sauaia brings her own personal history to the table and has gained the trust of the local underserved communities, based on a history of respect and candidness. At the same time, she has built a reputation as an evidence-based scientist with a solid publication and grant record.

Register

Agenda

Workshops

[4]Location & Travel [4]

[4]

The

3rd annual GLBTI symposium is supported by these sponsors

Office of the Vice President University Counsel, University of Colorado [5]

?Office of the Faculty Council, University of Colorado [6]

Office of the Vice President for Health Affairs, CU Anschutz Medical Campus [7]

?College of Arts & Media, CU Denver [8]

Office of the Vice Chancellor Diversity & Inclusion, CU Denver [9]

Office of the Chancellor, CU Colorado Springs [10]

Office of the Senior Vice Chancellor and Chief Financial Officer, CU Boulder [11]

Office of the Chancellor, CU Boulder [12]

Office of the Chancellor, Denver [13]

Faculty Affairs and Undergraduate Enrichment, CU Denver [14]

School of Education & Human Development, CU Denver [15]

Office of the Vice President and Academic Affairs Officer [16]

Join us on LinkedIn [17]!

Attachments:

3rd-annual-glbti-symposium-flyer.pdf [18]

Groups audience:

Faculty Senate | Faculty Council
