I. Salary

A. Determination of Salaries

The Laws of the Regents set forth provisions on the determination of salaries and guidelines for salaries, including a provision for a salary plan or plans as the Board may adopt.

- LOR: Determination of Salaries for Faculty, Officers, and Exempt Professionals (Section 11.A.1, Laws of the Regents) [2]

D. Salary Plan for Officers and Exempt Professionals

The Board of Regents has approved a salary plan for officers and exempt professionals. This plan includes policies for initial salaries and annual salary adjustments.
E. Basis for Service

Academic year salaries for faculty members are established on a "contract for service" basis and are not for time-related activity such as hourly, daily, or monthly. The University uses such time-related rates only as a convenience to prorate academic year salaries.

F. Pay Periods

Payday throughout the University is the last working day of the month, with the exception of June, which is paid on July 1. If the last day of the month falls on a weekend, payday is the preceding Friday.

Members of the instructional faculty have the option of receiving payment on a nine- or twelve-month installment basis. The nine-month installment basis provides one-ninth of the academic year salary monthly. The twelve-month installment basis provides one-twelfth of the academic year salary monthly.

An automatic bank deposit program for paychecks is available and may be mandatory on individual campuses.

G. Deductions

As required by law, the University withholds federal and state income taxes from faculty earnings. Tax deduction amounts are determined by the exemption schedule filed by each employee on the W-4 form. Faculty members who wish to change their exemptions should file a new W-4 form in the personnel office. Tax deductions are reported to employees each year in January on the W-2 form, Withholding Tax Statement, which is used in completing tax forms. Mandatory CU Optional Retirement Plan and Social Security retirement contributions are deducted for those faculty members eligible to participate in the plans. In addition, deductions authorized by the faculty member for health/life insurance premiums, parking fees, credit union, tax sheltered retirement annuities, and similar items are made.

H. Compensation for Administrators Returning to Teaching

Compensation policies for administrators returning to teaching are set forth in Regent policy "Compensation for Administrative Officers Returning to AY Faculty Positions."

The general policy of the Board of Regents on conflict of interest is set forth in Regent policy "Conflict of Interest - University Community."

Grant funds may not be used to increase an individual's regular (official) stipend for an academic year (i.e., for the period between the scheduled date of reporting for duty for the fall semester and the date of spring commencement). Exceptions will be made only with the explicit written authorization of the granting agency and the appropriate administrative review and approval within the University. All contracts and grants obtained by University employees must be managed through, and in accordance with policies of, the University of Colorado. (Source: Current Administrative Practice.)
