I. Non-Discrimination and Commitment to Diversity

A. Non-Discrimination

The Laws of the Regents set forth principles on non-discrimination of employees. The Board of Regents reaffirmed its commitment to these principles.

The Board of Regents established policy regarding the needs of disabled persons in the University community. Sections 503-504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 prohibit discrimination against otherwise qualified disabled persons, and require that reasonable accommodations be made for such persons.

"University-wide Affirmative Action Policies" include policies on hiring, promotion, evaluation, other personnel practices and retrenchment. Administrative policy describes the authority and responsibilities of the chancellors' offices and president's office for affirmative action programs and goals. The president's office issued an "Affirmation of Policy" on affirmative action.

See also Part Six, Section 1 for further information on non-discrimination policies.

IV. Conditions of Appointment

A. Conditions of Appointment - Employee-At-Will Status of Some Faculty
Contracts of employment are by appointment. The Laws of the Regents establish tenured, limited, indeterminate, or at-will appointments. Faculty who have been awarded tenure hold tenured appointments. Tenure-track faculty hold limited appointments that are granted for a specific period of time. Non-tenure-track faculty hold indeterminate appointments that are not granted for a specified period of time.

Employee-at-will provisions of Colorado law apply to all faculty except tenured faculty, tenure-track faculty, and specialty track faculty whose primary job assignment is clinical care. With the exception of those specialty-track faculty, non-tenure-track faculty members are deemed by state statute to be employees-at-will. The appointment of an employee-at-will is terminable by either the faculty member or the University at any time.

State law requires that any employment contract for an at-will employee must contain terms that clearly state the at-will nature of the employment and that describe other provisions of the statute as they may be amended from time to time.
