

Outreach <sup>[1]</sup>

The Board of Regents is committed to engaging constituents inside and outside the university to gain insight about what people want to see in the next president of the University of Colorado, as well as to get feedback on the search process.

The board has met with or scheduled meetings with student, faculty and staff governance groups on CU's four campuses. Additionally, the regents are meeting with community leaders and interested parties in communities around Colorado as part of outreach trips. The board will also meet with business, diversity and affinity groups around the state in the coming months. Meetings that have happened or are scheduled are listed below. The list will be updated as schedules are set. Please refer to campus and system websites for meeting details.
