The Small Dollar Contract Request Form is live on CU Marketplace. This form streamlines the small dollar contract process into one dedicated submission form for all small dollar procurement contracts $10,000 or less. It eliminates the need to email the various procurement inboxes, consolidates all communications regarding these contracts within Marketplace, and allows the PSC to balance workloads to improve processing times. The form can be found in CU Marketplace and allows more visibility into the contract workflow process and contract status.

Important Notes:

- Only those that have the requestor role in Marketplace will be able to submit small dollar contracts through this process.
- It works much like the supplier request. Form submission means that your small dollar contract form has been sent to the appropriate purchasing agent for review and processing, but it has not yet been fully executed.
- The purchasing agent will confirm with you once the contract has been executed.
- If you need a requisition for the purchase, you will still need to enter the requisition separately.

Please note: submitting the Small Dollar Contract Intake Form does not mean your contract has been fully executed. Form submission means your contract has been sent to the appropriate purchasing agent’s queue for review and processing. The purchasing agent will confirm with you once the contract has been executed.

Small Dollar Contract Request Form FAQ

- Can CU Marketplace Approvers see their department Requestor’s small dollar contract form submission queue in CU Marketplace?
  - Only Requestor’s can view their respective small dollar contract form queue. Approvers will need to check with their Requestor’s on the status of any submissions.
- What does a “completed” status mean when I submit the small dollar contract request form?
  ○ “Completed” means the form and any attachments have been successfully submitted to the PSC for review. A purchasing agent will confirm with you once the contract has been fully executed.

- Can a department submit a small dollar contract request when trying to pay a deposit?
  ○ The PSC does not sign contracts for deposits only. Any deposit required on a contract should be included as part of a full contract review and signature. If the department is trying to submit a small dollar contract request in order to be able to pay a deposit, then the full value of the contract must be under $10,000 in order to qualify for a small dollar contract submission. If the full value of the contract is over $10,000, then the contract must be submitted for review through a purchase requisition.

- I have an existing contract that needs to be amended, should I submit a new small dollar contract request?
  ○ No, if you have an executed contract, please submit the amendment / change request to changeorder@cu.edu [3] for processing. Any requests submitted through the small dollar request form for amendments / changes will be sent back to be processed as a change order.

- How can I be sure that a comment I submitted on my Small Dollar Contract Request reaches the appropriate Purchasing Agent?
  ○ In the Discussion tab of the Small Dollar Contract Request form, please specifically tag the appropriate Purchasing Agent according to the commodity you selected when creating your SMD request. This can be done by clicking on the magnifying glass and then searching for the Purchasing Agents name. Please search by last name. If you are not sure what Purchasing Agent manages the commodity you selected, please verify with this commodity listing [4].

Please Note: Contracts should not be split; should a contract need a deposit, follow the instructions mentioned in the link below for the deposit procedure and add one line for the deposit and one line for the balance of the event on the requisition. All events where the total dollar amount will exceed $10K are required to be on one purchase requisition.? https://www.cu.edu/psc/how-buy-official-functions [5]
