

Payments ^[1]

Payment Methods

The University of Colorado offers payment options with associated terms that vary based on the program. When invoices for purchased goods and services are submitted to the Procurement Service Center, the payment is processed either through the preferred Payment Plus program, by standard check payments, or by other means for suppliers who only have foreign bank accounts.

Payment Plus Program – Preferred Option

CU offers one of the most secure payment types available on the market today with the virtual credit card program Payment Plus. The program is designed to accelerate payment receipt by the supplier once an invoice is entered and approved in the purchasing system. Payments processed through Payment Plus are set up to pay Net10 via a one-time use virtual credit card number. For additional information on how to enroll in the virtual card program, contact PSC@cu.edu [2].

Check Payments – Standard Option

For suppliers unable to leverage the Payment Plus program for payment processing, checks are issued as the default payment type. Check payments are processed Net30 which means payment will be issued 30 days from the supplier invoice date. Payments are primarily processed by issuing a check to the supplier according to the invoice details and the supplier registration information.

Suppliers with Only Foreign Bank Accounts – Limited Option

Wire transfer payments are only issued on a case-by-case basis and in limited situations where the supplier only has a foreign bank account. Wire transfers must be initiated by the department working with the supplier, and must be requested in accordance with the PSC Procedural Statement for Wire Transfers [3].
