Body

Department Body

Photograph by Khalid Makkawi
The University of Colorado's four campuses are committed to delivering quality online and distance education. The University seeks to comply with nationwide and all state authorities' requirements to maximize students' educational opportunities and to protect their educational investments.