Campus Wellness & Mental Heath [1]

Charge

- To succeed, the working group must recognize the strength of diverse communities and perspectives. We must continue and enhance our commitment to creating an inclusive culture in pursuit of our goals of excellence and meeting the needs of the state, nation and world.
- The World Health Organization defines health as: “a state of complete physical, mental, and social well-being not merely the absence of disease and infirmity.” Campus wellness, including accessibility of mental health services, are increasingly important to the health and well-being of students, faculty, staff, and their families. Each campus already has a significant range of services supporting wellness and mental health; therefore, we will help to define a collaborative path for making campus physical, mental, and social wellness a point of distinction and necessity for all four campuses. Together we will:
  - Benchmark campus physical, mental, and social wellness support services, share lessons learned, explore opportunities for collaboration
  - Identify metrics to effectively track and evaluate campus wellness and mental health in our diverse CU communities
    - Set specific goals for these metrics; and
    - Define and prioritize action items to become a national leader in this area.
