University Relations Team [1]

University Relations supports strategic communications, media relations, executive messaging and digital communications across the University of Colorado System. Working closely with the Office of the President and CU's four campuses, the team helps communicate university priorities, share important news and connect the CU community with information and resources.

Our team provides support for media inquiries, university communications, executive messaging, social media, digital content and systemwide communications initiatives.

Meet Our Team

Connect with the University Relations team for assistance with communications, media inquiries, digital content and other university-related requests.
