- 7.A.2 The university reserves the right to deny admission or readmission to applicants whose credentials reflect an inability to assume obligations of performance and behavior deemed essential by the university and relevant to any of its lawful missions, processes, and functions as an educational institution.
- 7.A.3 University admission policies shall comply with state law and the policies of the Colorado Commission on Higher Education.

Part B: Standards of Conduct

- 7.C.1 The core principle of free inquiry and discourse is recognized by the Board of Regents as academic freedom. For students, academic freedom pertains to their course discussions, course assignments, and course/credit-based scholarly and creative work. See regent policy 7.C.
 - (A) Note that all members of the university community have the right to freedom of expression as stated in article 1.E of regent law and further elaborated in regent policy 1.D; however, this right is distinct from academic freedom.
- 7.C.2 In any course, students shall be free to discuss topics or ask questions related to the course, provided that students follow applicable campus policies and reasonable procedures established by the faculty member to ensure orderly discussion and progress toward class and course goals. See regent policy 7.C.
- 7.C.3 Students should be evaluated solely on academic performance, according to the published requirements established by the instructor or academic unit.

- 7.C.4 Each campus shall have policies and procedures to investigate claims of, and remediate confirmed violations of, student rights of academic freedom.

Part D: Student Government

- 7.D.1 On each campus, the students shall be represented by a campus student government organization that reports to the chancellor.
- 7.D.2 Each campus student government organization shall operate in accordance with a constitution that defines its governing structure and principles. The constitution is subject to approval by the chancellor.
