Outdated?

Stephan thought that setting up his new computer was taking too long. So he skipped a few steps including enabling automatic updates. But when a fellow employee's Internet access was blocked because his computer was a danger to the campus network, Stephan realized the errors of his ways.

So Stephan went back to the programs that allowed automatic updates and enabled them, and now also monitors for updates for his other applications and applies them as soon as prudent.

Learn more about the recommendations and policies that are designed to keep your computer up to date, and the campus network safe, at:
https://www.cusys.edu/itsecurity/docs/
Module14-ProtectingYourComputer-
Newsletter.pdf

DIGITAL DILEMMA 9