Policy Title: Tuition Assistance Benefit

APS Number: 5024

APS Functional Area: HUMAN RESOURCES

Brief Description: Tuition Assistance Benefit for CU Employees and Dependents

Effective: July 11, 2016

Approved by: President Bruce D. Benson (Pending)

Reason for Policy: The purpose of this Administrative Policy Statement is to establish the scope of the University of Colorado’s Educational Assistance Program and describe the taxability of educational assistance provided under this program. The university has a Section 127 Educational Assistance Plan established pursuant to Section 127 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. This Internal Revenue Code provision currently allows employers to exclude educational assistance provided to employees from their wages, up to a federally mandated limit. Additionally, Section 117 of the Internal Revenue Code allows the university to exclude undergraduate-level tuition assistance for employees of the university and their dependents.

I. INTRODUCTION

All campuses of the university offer a tuition benefit (also called tuition assistance) on a non-discriminatory basis to eligible university employees and their dependents. Tuition assistance can only be provided in the form of a tuition waiver or discount. Employees or dependents may not choose to receive cash in place of tuition assistance. Employees and dependents are responsible for paying all other required campus-specific fees and other related educational costs.

II. POLICY STATEMENT

Tuition assistance is available to employees in regular (non-temporary), eligible, job classifications that are at least 50% appointment. The benefit may be split between the employee and the eligible dependents. The employee shall decide, prior to using the benefit each academic year, who will utilize the benefit - the employee or dependents. The academic year begins with the fall term. Enrollment in courses by the employee or dependents is subject to campus-specific registration requirements.

A. Employee Eligibility for Benefit

To qualify for the benefit either for the employee’s own use or for a dependent’s use, an employee, and where applicable, the employee’s dependent must satisfy the following criteria:
1. The employee is in a regular (non-temporary), approved job classification that is at least a 50% appointment.
   a) If an employee has multiple appointments, the percentages will be added to determine eligibility of 50% or greater.

2. The employee holds an active appointment at the time of the census date published campus deadline for the semester in which the benefit is being applied (being on FMLA-documented leave or sabbatical does not preclude eligibility for the benefit).

3. The employee or dependent seeking to use the benefit has satisfied applicable admissions requirements prior to registration deadlines.

4. For Colorado residents, each registering undergraduate student must apply and authorize the College Opportunity Fund (COF) and pay the difference if COF is exhausted.

B. Employee: University-wide Use of Benefit Elements of the Benefit for Employees

1. Nine credits are available each year to be applied against tuition costs on a space-available basis at any CU campus for undergraduate or graduate credit-granting courses, complying with restrictions set within the course requirements.

2. Employees may only begin registration on the first day of the semester or the first day of the course (including early-start courses). The employee may be disqualified from current or future participation if he/she enrolls prior to the first day of the semester or the first day of the course (including early-start courses) and then drops the class to re-enroll under the tuition benefit.

3. The nine credits can be used in one semester or split among semesters during the same academic year, which begins fall semester.

4. Supervisor approval is not required to take a course. Supervisor approval for class attendance during normal work hours is required as for any absence reason, but does not require separate documentation.

5. The benefit may not be applied to any course offered by an auxiliary-funded program, such as Continuing Education, Extended Studies, the Executive MBA program, or the Part-Time, Evening MBA program.

6. The benefit may not be applied to study abroad or audits.

7. Each year a select number of Boulder campus and System employees are eligible to use their nine-credit tuition assistance benefits for an employee development opportunity available through the Boulder campus Department of Human Resources and the Lockheed Martin Engineering Management Program (EMP), Leadership and Management Graduate Certificate.

8. Waiver is credited against financial aid eligibility. The waived amount is considered financial assistance and may impact financial aid eligibility.

9. For Colorado residents, each registering undergraduate student must apply and authorize the College Opportunity Fund (COF) and pay the difference if COF is exhausted.

C. Dependent: University-wide Common Elements Use of the Benefits for Dependents of Employees on All Campuses, on Employee’s Campus of Employment
1. Each campus has established specific rules governing operation of the dependent tuition benefit, as specified in Sections II.D–II.G. The following requirements apply, however, to all eligible dependents of university employees seeking to use the tuition benefit on any employee’s campus of employment:

a) Dependent eligibility verification is required as for other employee benefits permitting dependent coverage. See https://www.cu.edu/sites/default/files/policies/2058-dependent-eligibility-verification/files/cu-dev13-140.pdf for definitions of dependents.

b) The following relationships are eligible for tuition assistance although they are not, by IRS definition, eligible dependents. The monetary value of such tuition discount will be subject to income taxation:

1. Same-gender domestic partner (SGDP) or civil union partner who are not legally married;
2. A dependent child of an SGDP or civil union partner to whom you are not legally married; and
3. An employee’s dependent child who is not eligible to be claimed as a dependent on the employee’s Federal Form 1040 US Individual Income Tax Return.

c) The amount of graduate tuition that dependents waived or the discount that they receive using the tuition benefit is subject to income taxation for the spouse, partner, or parent who is a CU employee. See IRS Publication 970 - Tax Benefits for Education.

d) Waiver is credited against financial aid eligibility. The waved amount is considered financial assistance and may impact financial aid eligibility.

e) For Colorado residents, each registering undergraduate student must apply and authorize the College Opportunity Fund (COF) and pay the difference if COF is exhausted.

f) The benefit may not be applied to any course offered by an auxiliary-funded program, such as Continuing Education, Extended Studies, the Executive MBA program, and the 11-month MBA program.

g) The benefit may not be applied to study abroad or audits.

h) Dependent(s) may register during the regular enrollment period for undergraduate or graduate credit-granting courses.

2. Dependent: Benefit Rules for Dependents of CU Denver|Anschutz Medical Campus and AMC Employees

3. The employee’s total tuition waiver credits each year can be applied against tuition costs on a space available basis for undergraduate or graduate credit-granting courses.

4. Dependents may only register on the first day of classes. The dependent may be disqualified from current or future participation if he/she enrolls prior to the first day of classes, drops the class to reenroll under the tuition benefit.

a) Use of the benefit is limited to dependents of CU Denver|Anschutz Medical campus and system administration employees.

b) Use of the benefit is limited to eligible courses offered on the Denver campus and on the Anschutz Medical Campus. Use of the benefit is limited to Nursing and Public Health courses (except PUBH 6606 and PUBH 6955) on the Anschutz Medical Campus.

c) The maximum benefit for any one dependent is nine credits per year. Dependents may not use both parents’ benefit to increase the waived credits per year. Dependent(s) are eligible to waive up to a combined maximum of 9 credit hours per academic year. If both parents/partners are employed at CU Denver/Anschutz Medical Campus in eligible appointments, the dependent(s) may waive up to a combined maximum of 18 credit hours.

a. The nine credits can be used in one semester or split among semesters during the same academic year.

b. Employees of CU affiliates (e.g., Children’s Hospital Colorado, University Physicians, University of Colorado Medicine, Inc., University of Colorado Health) are not eligible to participate in the tuition benefit program.

c. The tuition benefit cannot be applied to courses at Metropolitan State University of Denver or Community College of Denver.

5.3. Dependent: Benefit Rules for Dependents of Colorado Springs Employees

6. The employee's total tuition waiver credits each year can be applied against tuition costs for undergraduate or graduate credit-granting courses.

7. Dependent(s) may register during the regular enrollment period for undergraduate or graduate credit-granting courses.

   a) Use of the benefit is limited to dependents of Colorado Springs campus and system administration employees.

   b) Use of the benefit is limited to courses offered by the Colorado Springs campus.

   c) Each dependent is eligible to waive the cost of 9 credit hours. If both parents/partners are employed at CU Colorado Springs in eligible appointments, the dependent may receive 18 tuition waiver credits. Dependent(s) are eligible to waive up to a combined maximum of 9 credit hours per academic year. If both parents/partners are employed at the Colorado Springs campus in eligible appointments, the dependent(s) may waive up to a combined maximum of 18 credit hours per academic year.

   d) The nine credits can be used in one semester or split among semesters during the same academic year.

   e) Employees of CU affiliates and their dependents (e.g., University of Colorado Health, Memorial Health System, Children’s Hospital Colorado) are not eligible to participate in the tuition benefit program.

8.4. Benefit Rules for Dependents of Boulder Employees

a) Dependent(s) may register for undergraduate or graduate credit-granting courses and receive a 30% tuition waiver at a 23% discounted rate for all eligible coursework and for in any or all semesters in an academic year.

   1. For eligible dependents utilizing the discounted rate for graduate tuition benefit, the monetary value of the discounted tuition is subject to income taxation for the spouse, partner, or parent who is a CU employee.

9. Dependents may register for courses during the regular enrollment period.

b) Use of the benefit is limited to courses offered by the Boulder campus.

   a) Use of the benefit is limited to dependents of Boulder campus and system administration employees.

   b) Each dependent is eligible for the 23% discounted rate. If an employee has more than one dependent who seeks to use the benefit in a particular year, each dependent is entitled to the 23% tuition benefit for the courses in which each dependent is enrolled.
discount. In a family where both parents/partners are employed at CU Boulder or at System Administration in eligible appointments, and have only one child seeking to use the benefit in a particular year, the one dependent is eligible for a discounted tuition benefit of 4.60% or multiple dependents are eligible for 30% each.

The employee is not eligible to use the 9-credit tuition waiver during an academic year in which a dependent utilizes the 230% discount for one or more semesters.

4.5. Benefit Rules for Dependents of System Administration Employees

a) Dependents of system employees may choose between using the tuition waiver credits at CU Denver, Nursing and Public Health courses (except PUBH 6606 and PUBH 6955) on the Anschutz Medical Campus, or Colorado Springs, or the 230% discounted tuition option in lieu of tuition waiver on the Boulder campus for undergraduate or graduate credit-granting courses.

b) If a dependent of a System employee uses the tuition waiver credits, the nine credits can be used in one semester or split among semesters during the same year. The benefit may not be applied to any course offered by an auxiliary-funded program, such as Continuing Education, Extended Studies, the Executive MBA program, and the 11-month MBA program.

c) If a system employee’s dependent uses the 230% discounted tuition option in lieu of tuition waiver on the Boulder campus, all of the limitations specified in Section II.F shall apply to the dependent’s use of the discount.

D. Dependent: Three-year Pilot Program - University-wide Use on Campus Other Than Employee’s Campus of Employment

1. Dependent eligibility verification is required as for other employee benefits permitting dependent coverage. See https://www.cu.edu/sites/default/files/policies/2058-dependent-eligibility-verification/files/cu-dev13-140.pdf for definitions of dependents.

2. The following relationships are eligible for tuition assistance although they are not, by IRS definition, eligible dependents. The monetary value of such tuition discount will be subject to income taxation:

   a) Same-gender domestic partner (SGDP) or civil union partner who are not legally married;

   b) A dependent child of an SGDP or civil union partner to whom you are not legally married; and

   c) An employee’s dependent child who is not eligible to be claimed as a dependent on the employee’s Federal Form 1040 US Individual Income Tax Return.

3. The waived amount is considered financial assistance and may impact financial aid eligibility.

4. For Colorado residents, each registering undergraduate student must apply and authorize the College Opportunity Fund (COF) and pay the difference if COF is exhausted.

5. The benefit may not be applied to any course offered by an auxiliary-funded program, such as Continuing Education, Extended Studies, the Executive MBA program, and the 11-month MBA program.

6. The benefit may not be applied to study abroad or audits.

7. Use of the benefit is limited to dependents enrolling in classes on a campus other than the employee’s campus of employment.

8. Dependent(s) may register during the regular enrollment period for undergraduate credit-granting courses. No graduate courses are eligible.
9. Dependent(s) are eligible to waive $270 per credit up to a combined maximum of 9 credit hours per academic year, for a maximum benefit of $2430.

10. The nine credits can be used in one semester or split among semesters during the same academic year, which begins fall semester.

11. If both parents/partners are employed at the University in eligible appointments, the dependent(s) may waive up to a combined maximum of 18 credit hours per academic year at the campus neither parent/partner is working.
