

Cultivating Belonging:

A CU Faculty Council Women's Committee Event

⌚ March 12, 2026 10am-2pm 🗂 CU Denver Lawrence St Center

Includes parking, lunch, and swag! RSVP:

Keynote Speaker: Bryn Harris

Dr. Bryn Harris is a Professor in the School of Education and Human Development and the Department of Pediatrics, she is also a Faculty Fellow for Strategic Initiatives with the Office of Faculty Affairs at CU Denver. Dr. Harris runs CU Denver's Women's Leadership Program and will be presenting about her work with the program. The Women's Leadership Program at CU Denver is designed to offer academic leaders with potential and interest in academic leadership the necessary time, space, and guidance to explore leadership and see themselves as leaders. Participants in this program are empowered to contribute to the future development of higher education at CU Denver, address gender bias obstacles, and better recognize talent, thus reducing barriers to career opportunities. Graduates of the program are well-equipped to mentor and advocate for future generations of leaders at CU Denver.

Opening Facilitator: Amy Ferrell

Birthing Community

The opening activity of the day will be led by the PI of CU Denver's School of Education and Human Development community-building and peacemaking group, Amy Ferrell. Amy would like you to bring an artifact that symbolizes community to you. Please come prepared to show your artifact to others and briefly share why it symbolizes community to you as a woman. If you forget to bring an artifact, don't worry. Materials will be provided for you to create a symbol of community.

Questions? facultycouncil@cu.edu

